LEARNING OBJECTIVES
At the conclusion of this activity, participants should be able to:

- Identify significant risks and primary factors associated with medical errors.
- Analyze strategies to avoid medical errors.
- Examine the dynamic history of TPN and its role in improving patient outcomes.
- Describe effective evaluation of operative performance.
- Analyze strategies for remediation of deficiencies in operative performance.
- Assess current and future applications of robots in surgery.
- Develop strategies for overcoming barriers to implementing surgical site infection prevention recommendations.
- Demonstrate robotic and laparoscopic skills.
- Appraise reconstructive materials and techniques for specific surgical repairs.
- Demonstrate the correct use and indications of energy sources in clinical practice.

TARGET AUDIENCE
The target audience for this meeting is general and specialty surgeons, surgical residents, surgical fellows, surgical students and researchers.

CME credit provided by the American College of Surgeons. This activity has been approved for 9.75 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™.
